Why SOTI?

SOTI is the pioneer of the mobility management industry – delivering security and management solutions for mobile devices even before Mobile Device Management (MDM) was a defined market. Then, as applications and content became a vital aspect of business mobility, SOTI helped steer the market toward Enterprise Mobility Management (EMM). Today, SOTI is leading the industry toward Unified Endpoint Management (UEM) and will continue to secure and manage the Internet of Things (IoT).

SOTI removes the complexity from managing a multi-OS, multivendor, and multi-purpose mobile business environment. SOTI MobiControl is an end-to-end EMM solution that manages mobile devices, applications, content, and security from within a single management console.
